MILLENNIUM & COPTHORNE HOTELS PLC

“Joint Venture marks M&C Hotels' entry into Indian market”

- Joint venture will own and develop hotels in Southern India
- First entry into the Indian sub-continent
- M&C to manage hotels under a new brand currently being developed

Millennium and Copthorne Hotels plc (M&C) provides details on its joint venture company (JV) in India with Rakindo Developers Pvt. Ltd., to develop hospitality projects in India, marking M&C hotels' first entry into India. Under this non-exclusive agreement, the joint venture company, M&C Rakindo Hospitality, will develop two hotels in Chennai and Bangalore. The JV partners are also looking into developing more hotels in Southern India.

Under the JV agreement, M&C Rakindo Hospitality is developing hotels catering to the needs of the business traveller. The two new hotels will be managed under a new urban brand aimed at offering affordable contemporary business hotels to the market. M&C is investing up to USD100 million in the JV. M&C owns 60 percent of the JV and Rakindo Developers own 40 percent.

The demand for hotel rooms is soaring in India due to an increase in the influx of foreign tourists and corporate travelers, as well as a growth in domestic tourism. Room prices in India have risen considerably due to the shortage of hotel type accommodation, according to recent figures released at the Arabian Hotel Investment Conference (AHIC). According to the 2007 Jones Lang LaSalle Hotels India Digest, aggressive growth in RevPar has been recorded in three key Indian cities of Delhi, Bangalore and Mumbai over the last five financial years.

The hotel in Chennai is expected to be completed in 2009 while completion of the Bangalore hotel is expected in 2010.

Chairman of Millennium and Copthorne Hotels plc, Mr Kwek Leng Beng, comments:.

"The Group's first foray into India is to take advantage of the rapid growth of the Indian economy. With very high room rates throughout India, we believe that there is demand for a well-designed product catered to the business traveller who may be unwilling to pay 5-star hotel rates. There is a strong basis to believe in the long-term attractiveness of the Indian hospitality market. In view of this, we hope to focus on markets with high investment potential and build new business hotels in major growth cities in India over the next five years. Rakindo is a valuable partner who has a strong network in the local business community and government and knows the conditions and potential of the Southern Indian market."

Managing Director, Rakindo Developers, Prasad Koneru further comments:.

"The tie-up between M&C and Rakindo Developers, makes tremendous business sense keeping in mind the booming demand for business class hotel rooms in India. The Indian economy is slated to grow at an average of eight per cent plus for the next decade and we feel that this tie-up will help us tremendously into and cater to the growing needs of the business traveller in India."
